Base Running

#1 So when can a runner be sent back to the previous base – or put more simply how far can you push the running to the next base?

Every year this is a source of some discussion. There is no simple rule. There is a simple rule for when play ends. As a general rule a runner should not advance to the next base if he or she has not reached the half way point. This will be open to interpretation by coaches and the umpire. Trying to get some sort of agreement before the game usually helps.

Rules and expectations change from one division to another

Make sure that the game is being played according to our rules. In almost every “awkward moment” simple discussion can allow time to arrive at the correct decision. . . BUT the umpire has the last call.

Umpires

In Rookie and Novice umpires are parent volunteers. In Junior, and Intermediate, umpires are older players who may not have seen every situation – give them time to make the call and then if needed calmly, quietly and in private discuss the decision. In Senior parents will ump the regular season games and the hope is that we will have professional umpires for the playoffs.
